MP Planners Approve School Site Plan, Battle Expected Over Building Permit

Menlo Park Planning Commission this week approved as a school site the 10 acre parcel of land located at Elder and Santa Cruz Aves. on the Sharon Estate.

Approval of the site by the commission does not indicate that it will also approve the use permit for building the school, City Atty. James O'Keefe, explained. It was the unofficial opinion of the commission that a use permit would not be granted, because the site is located on the wrong side of Santa Cruz Ave., Charles Burgess, mayor, said last week.

Menlo Park Elementary School Board needed the commission's approval before condemnation proceedings to obtain the site could be completed. The district attorney has stated that the school will not need a use permit from Menlo Park. Menlo Park city attorney contends a city use permit is required before building can begin.

More than 25 parents appeared at the planning commission meeting to appeal for approval of the site, and Jerome Pollitzer, representative of the Menlo Investment Co. which owns the Sharon Estate, spoke to the commission asking that the site be vetoed.

Pollitzer said that water is short in the Sharon Estate and selling of a parcel may deprive the estate of a valuable source of water. Pollitzer had used this plea a couple of months ago when the school board first considered the Sharon site. Pollitzer suggested land across Santa Cruz as a more convenient and more economical site for the school.

The Menlo Park Board of Trustees, who were meeting this week at the Central School, were called to the city hall at the suggestion of O'Keefe to explain why the Santa Cruz and Elder parcel is considered the best location.

George Angus, president of the board of trustees, said the board with the help of outside experts had made a two year study before the school site was chosen.

The school board hopes to have the new school ready for next year.

Schools Here Show Record Increases

First day registration figures for schools in the Redwood City area Tuesday showed sharp increases over last year's enrollment. All local school districts reported a record enrollment.

Largest increase, percentagewise, was in the San Carlos Elementary School Dist., which showed increase of 425 pupils over last year's enrollment of slightly more than 1400.

The San Carlos enrollment at noon Tuesday was listed by Supt. Ruth Melendy as 1875. Of the total, 515 signed up at the White Oaks School and the remainder at the Central School. About 515 of the pupils will be transfered to the Arundel School when it is completed early next year.

Supt. Andrew Spinas of the Redwood City Elementary School Dist. reported enrollment here at about 4260, an increase of 500 over registration last June.

Spinas said that the enrollment will probably increase throughout the year and reach a total of between 4400 and 4500 by next June.

The kindergarten waiting list in Redwood City has grown to 155, Spinas said. He said he planned to call a school board meeting soon in order to hire extra teachers to take care of the additional kindergarten pupils and form new classes.

Kindergartens in all eight of the district's schools are filled already and have waiting lists varying from two to 45 students. Twenty more children have been added to the list since Monday.

Enrollment in the eight schools, grade and kindergarten, totals separated, and the number on waiting lists are as follows:

	Grades	Kindergarten	Waiting
Washington	390	64	29
Lincoln	494	70	31
Monroe	159	55	6
John Gill	440	52	45
Taft	330	64	28
Hoover	388	64	7
Garfield	356	66	7
McKinley	1039	74	2
Total	3596	509	155

Supt. Clyde Ogden of Sequoia High School announced Tuesday that the opening day registration at Sequoia was 2497, not including 82 late registrants and 200 uncalled for assignment cards. Ogden predicted the total would probably pass the 2700 mark, an increase of about 400 students over last year.

McDonald Ave. Proposed as Name

Menlo Park Planning Commission this week recommended that the name of McDonald Ave. which runs through Stanford Gardens be changed to Oak Dell Dr. The recommendation will be brought to the city council.

The commission set a public hearing for Oct. 11 on the rezoning of lot 51 in the Stanford Park Annex. It is asked that the lot be changed from a four duplex zone to one that allows 8-unit apartment buildings.

May Prepare Master Plan For Hospital

The County Board of Health and Welfare, at its meeting in the hospital this week, voted to recommend to the board of supervisors that a preliminary study be made to lay the groundwork for the master plan.

Present facilities at Community are inadequate, Dr. Harold D. Chope, the county's health director, said today.

And they will fall even further behind the pace as the county continues to grow.

Dr. Chope said his idea of future development at the hospital would include — along with expansion of the hospital itself—the construction of a health center.

At the center, he said, would be clinics for tuberculosis, venereal diseases and maternity hygiene.

There would be an out patient department and space for laboratory work.

Many members of the staff of the health department would move their offices to the center from the county courthouse in Redwood City, he said.

"It would make a unit of the health department," according to Dr. Chope.

By the end of this fiscal year, on June 30, 1949, the doctor said he would have approximately $114,000 available in the department's account for use as a nucleus health center fund.

The money was allocated by the state to this county in the past two years for public health work, he said.

Another $115,000 would be available, according to Dr. Chope, for expansion of the hospital.

A bond issue for that amount was approved by the county's voters in 1946 and has not yet been spent.

He gave these examples of the inadequacy of present facilities at the hospital:

There is only one major operating room at Community. That isn't nearly enough now, and the situation will be much worse as the population increases, unless something is done and soon.

There are only 12 beds available for communicable disease patients. There should be many more.

There are some 500 beds available in all hospitals in the county for all types of patients. When the Peninsula and Sequoia Hospitals are finished—that total will be upped approximately 200.

That's way short of the normal requirements, according to Dr. Chope.

"By 1955," he said, "the county should have at least 1000 beds available."

Community Hospital right now is 79 per cent filled with patients —and this is a slack season, he said.

Normal operating conditions call for occupancy of about 72 per cent of capacity.

The health director said Douglas D. Stone, architect for the Peninsula and Sequoia Hospitals and the Canyon Sanatorium, has offered to draw up a master plan for a fee of one per cent of the construction cost.

RC Woman Tops Fiesta Contest List

Two contests sponsored by the San Mateo County Fiesta, which opens Sept. 24, came to a close Wednesday as judges said that names had been found for the Fiesta's mascots—a pair of lambs —and the winner selected for a slogan contest.

Just which will get the name, Benjamin Paradiso of San Carlos, owner of the twins, will have to decide. The lambs were selected to represent the Fiesta three months ago. One is a "pinto"—a 100,000 to 1 freak, according to the animal husbandry department of the University of California, and the other is pure white.

Runner-up prizes were awarded to G. McClellan, 438 Sonora, San Mateo, who submitted "Para" and "Dice" and to Mrs. W. A. Shattuck Jr., 34 Clarendon Rd., Burlingame, who proposed "Spic" and "Span." The second two winners were each awarded four passes to the 1948 Fiesta.

The mascots will be featured in the livestock exhibition—"one of the finest to be held in Northern California," according to George Lagomarsino, county fiesta association president.

At the present time, he said, all buildings for the livestock exhibit plus the judging stand have been completed and are ready for use.

Meanwhile, "Skip your Siesta, But not the Fiesta," was the winning jingle submitted by Edna May Spencer, 1413 Cortez Ave., Burlingame. For submitting her prize winner, Miss Spencer will receive six season passes to the 10-day show.

Other winners were submitted by Mrs. Esther LaRue, 134 Chestnut Lane, San Mateo, second prize; Mrs. Henry A. Leinetz, 2604 Brewster Ave., Redwood City, third prize, and Laurence Stahl, 67 Northumberland, Redwood City, fourth prize.

MP Rotarians Hold Ladies Night

The Menlo Park Rotary celebrated ladies night Tuesday at the Pioneer Club in Woodside. The program included community singing led by Norman R. Cory, a musical skit directed by Lt. Col. Arthur W. Brewer of the Oakland Rotary Club, and dancing to Joe Spenger's orchestra.

Spencer Fish, president, introduced the guests: Harold D. Bostock, district governor, and his wife; Andrew W. Spears, Palo Alto president, and his wife.

Bostock was also guest of the Menlo Park Rotary at its luncheon meeting today at Marie Antoinette. Tonight the Menlo Park Lions Club will treat the Rotarians to a chicken dinner as reward for winning the donkey baseball game last month; however, the Lions won't eat chicken, they'll eat beans. After dinner there will be a softball game between the two clubs at Nealon Recreation Park.

Ready for Sequoia Grid Wars

Al and Buck Start Sorting Men From Boys at Sequoia Practice

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Terremere

This year the old process of weeding out the rock-sock football players from those who think they might look good in shoulder pads is going to be a little tougher.

For one thing, the sheer size of the job is bigger than it has ever been before. More than 100 have signed up and no matter how you slice that, it means a lot of lads to look at.

For another, few first string positions have veterans with much of a claim on them. Most of last year's squad has graduated and the Cherokee turf yesterday afternoon was flooded with rookies.

Day before yesterday the coaches started issuing equipment out to those with known experience, including some transfers. All through yesterday while Terremere watched the field, Devine superintended the handing out of pants, pads, etc., to the others.

Of all the crew out there were scarcely any real honest to goodness veterans. A check of the roster showed only 14. They are Dick Abbott, quarterback; Bob Barnes, guard; Lowell Clark, end; Gale Dimick, end or quarter; Clyde Harper, half; Jim Harriss, half; Harry Hanratty, end; Bob Henderson, end; Al Lopez, tackle; Don MeNeil, quarter; Jim Nystrom, tackle; Mel Ratkovitch, half; Ed West, full; and Nick Weber, end.

And of those only Lopez, McNeil, Barnes and Harper put in much time last year on the first team.

This is not to say the outlook is dark or hopeless or anything like that. The outlook is just perplexing.

A few glances proved that there were easily 11 lads there who had the heft to make football players. If it were a matter of heft, Sequoia is all fixed. Unfortunately gridders are not always picked on the scales. Some weighty gents prove flops. Some skinny little runts prove hot stuff.

There is some talk around the field of "transfers." Reportedly some players from other schools have transferred to this area and have shown up for the team. Supposedly they are good. Especially supposed to be good is one large chap from San Francisco's Polytechnic High School, a hot bed of champions.

However, the Cherokee experience with transfers has been nothing sensational in the past. If these transfers are to be good, they'll have to start proving it.

One bright side is the number of men up from last year's soph-frosh club which won the Peninsula Athletic League crown. These, and here's another "however," will probably need seasoning before they latch onto such tough varsity squads as Lincoln and San Mateo High Schools.

Those out for the club the last time the roster was checked are beside the veterans already named:

John Alcock, half; Larry Arnold, half; Don Austin, half; Glen Bacon, guard; Bob Bailey, half; Jerry Babin, half; Art Belcher, guard; Dave Blackmer, end; Dick Boydston, full; Joe Bozzuto, tackle; Ed Brown, end; Floyd Bumbacca, half; William Campbell, guard; Jack Campbell, half; Ed Calcany, end; Ron Clark, quarterback; Baker Cleveland, guard; John Crawford, quarterback; Constantine Condos, full;

Bill Donner, end; Dave Conway, end; Ralph Cronin, tackle; On Chow, half; Bob Faulstich, end; Richard Gsell, guard; Wally Hall, half; Fred Hall, end; Frank Hildreth, guard; Paul Hudson, center; Don Halsted, tackle; Bill Huelsenkamp, end; Art Jessup, half; Dave King, tackle; Tom Kerr, quarterback; Mort Kelleher, guard; Bob Keyes, guard; Glen Kovas, tackle;

Arnold Robletto, full; Ron Russell, guard; Lewis Ruud, end; Joe Sagasty, end; Dick Sandham, end; Bruce Schott, guard; Will Schott, guard; Alvin Shelton, full; Dick Somer, tackle; Andy Sifuentes, end; Bill Schetter, guard; Chuck Schmidt, tackle;

$25,000 Awarded In Damage Action

A superior court jury Tuesday afternoon gave three Redwood City persons a total of $25,000 damages as a result of an automobile accident in 1946 in which two were killed.

Katie Vignola, whose son, Silvio, died in the crash, and the son's widow, Rose, were awarded $10,000.

Joseph Caccamo, injured in the collision, was awarded $15,000.

The jury found against the defendant, Mrs. Ruth Swanston, whose husband, Charles, a wealthy Mountain View frozen foods packer, was also killed in the accident.

Three hours were required for the jury to reach its decision, after testimony had been concluded in Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton's courtroom.

The two-death accidents, out of which the trial arose, occurred Jan. 6, 1946, on El Camino Real in San Carlos.

Cars driven by Caccamo and Mr. Swanston crashed headon at high speed. Mr. Swanston and Mr. Vignola, a Redwood City cab driver, both died almost instantly.

Caccamo was seriously injured.

Shanzer Estate Sold for $79,000

The Shanzer estate on Black Mountain Rd. in Hillsborough has been sold to W. P. Fuller III, according to a deed on file today with County Recorder T. Clark Rice.

The property was sold to Fuller by Mrs. Charlotte Shanzer for $79,000, according to the California Pacific Title Insurance Co., which handled the transaction.

Firemen Seek Owner Of Car Which Burned

Menlo Park firemen were searching Monday for the owner of a 1931 Chrysler which was totally destroyed by fire near the intersection of Bayshore Hwy. and Willow Rd. Saturday afternoon.

The automobile has been impounded by firemen who said they could not immediately trace it because it had been sold several times within the past few months.

Witnesses at a tavern near the scene told firemen a Negro had entered and asked for a bucket of water, stating that his car was on fire. He was not present when firemen arrived and was last seen thumbing a ride north according to witnesses, firemen said.

EXCHANGE PLANS TRIP

Redwood City Exchange Club Wednesday completed plans for a visit to the Hunter's Point naval yards Sept. 28. According to Pres. Henry Nissen, the club will make the trip by bus and will dine at the officer's club at the yard.

Judge Fines Driver $200 In Belmont

James H. Holton, San Francisco, driver of an automobile which on Aug. 12 was involved in an accident which sent six persons to Community Hospital, Tuesday was found guilty by Belmont Police Judge Gus Risso on charges of reckless driving, driving without caution, and driving on the wrong side of the road.

Holton, a 22-year-old St. Mary's student, was fined $200 and had his driver's license suspended for 90 days.

At the request of the district attorney's office, Judge Risso dropped charges of felony drunk driving against Holton in connection with the accident. The district attorney's office asked for postponement of the case on Aug. 18.

Holton was arested on Aug. 12 following an 80-mile-an-hour chase on El Camino Real from Atherton to Belmont in which patrol cars from three police departments participated. Holton's car was involved in a collision at the Ralston Ave. intersection in Belmont with a car driven by Mansell H. Wiedeman, 36, 1720 Francis Ave.

Wiedeman and five passengers in his car were injured and sent to Community Hospital as a result of the accident.

San Carlos police also charged Holton with drunk driving, but said Wednesday that charges there were reduced to reckless driving by Judge Rupert Johnson at the request of the district attorney's office "in order to protect the Belmont felony driving charge.

Tuesday in Belmont police court Judge Risso fined Keith B. Saboff, 23 1513 Cordilleras Ave., San Carlos, $100 on charges of reckless driving.

Saboff was arrested by Belmont police Sunday while he was driving by the scene of an automibile accident, and charged him with reckless driving and refusal to sign a citation.

'Pint Sized' Fire Halted in SC

San Carlos firemen reported that a "pint-sized" forest fire early Wednesday burned up two pine trees at the rear of the Perennial Garden Nursery, on the east side of El Camino Real near Cherry St.

Firemen said that a grass fire of undetermined origin started near Southern Pacific tracks, spread into brush and then into the two trees. No damage resulted except to the trees, Fire Chief Lyle Clark reported.

The fire was reported at 1 p.m.

350 Hear Glen Taylor In RC Talk

About 350 persons Sunday attended a rally of the San Mateo County Progressive Party and heard an hour and a half long address by Sen. Glen Taylor of Idaho, Progressive party vice-presidential candidate.

Taylor gave the Redwood City area its first taste of a "singing campaign," with the help of his brother, Paul Taylor, Eighth Dist. congressional candidate, and his wife and son.

Paul Taylor sang one solo, Sen. Taylor's son a second, with the Taylor brothers harmonizing, and the third was presented by the entire ensemble.

The rally was held at the Sequoia High School auditorium and lasted more than three hours. A number of county and state Progressive party officials were introduced to the audience prior to the main addresses.

Copies of the "People's World," West Coast Communist publication, were handed out to those attending the meeting just as they entered the gates leading into the high school.

In his address, Senator Taylor charged that the United States was being led down the same road which led to Hitler. He said that the country was being controlled by militarists and monopolists and likened President Truman to von Hindenburg. Germany's pre-Hitler president.

Taylor labeled the Marshall Plan as "the biggest fake ever perpetrated on any people at any time. He said that through the plan the United States was gaining economic control of the world.

Thomas Tuite Heads Retail Meat Assn.

Thomas Tuite of Redwood City this week was named president of the Peninsula Retail Meat Dealers Assn. at a meeting in San Mateo. Earl Schmidt, Burlingame, was reelected secretary for the 23rd consecutive year.

The dealers ratified the recently negotiated contract with the AFL Butchers Union.

Many dealers reported operating at a loss at present, and high meat prices generally were deplored by members of the association.

Members elected to the board of directors are Fred Kleppe, Burlingame, treasurer; C. Meyer, San Mateo; S. Calcagno, Redwood City, vice president; C. Hultberg, San Bruno; James Kilpatrick, Millbrae; N. Benedetti, San Mateo; and Ralph Hallett, Redwood City.

Telephone Outlets Increase 63 Per Cent

Number of telephones in Redwood City has increased from 6500 on V-J Day to 10,600 at the present time, E. C. Krase, manager of the local office of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., said today.

This represents a 63 per cent increase since Victory in Japan.

The company has added 1,000,000 telephones since V-J Day. The announcement was made today by M. R. Sullivan, the company's president, during the course of his welcoming address to the Telephone Pioneers of America at their 1948 general assembly in San Francisco.

The millionth telephone was installed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stone in Sacramento.

According to Krase, the present rate of telephone growth is three times as fast as before and during the war, when it took the company nine years to add the preceding million telephones. In the past three years, the number of telephones in service has been brought to a present record total of 3,631,917.

Graphically indicative of the way the West Coast population has moved around since the war, the company has installed more than 3,000,000 telephones, and taken out over 2,000,000, in achieving a growth of a million.

Krase said that the company estimates the population gain in the Pacific West since V-J Day has been approximately 2,000,000, or 17 per cent, while in the same period the million telephones represent a growth of 38 per cent.

"This impressive record of telephone expansion," Krase went on, "required a huge amount of construction, ranging from the building of hundreds of new telephone offices to the placing of 3,000,000 miles of new wire. Cable and switching equipment have been added at a record-breaking pace.

"The telephone company's job," he said, "is still far from done. On V-J Day we had one order on the waiting list for every six main telephones in service, while today there is only one order for every 13 main telephones served.

There were 300,000 orders for service at the end of the war and although 1,000,000 telephones have been added there are still 200,000 orders to be filled. The orders continue to pour in day by day and month by month, and there could be no more graphic testimony to the growth and prosperity of the Pacific West.

State Realty Board Members Agree 'To Do Unto Others'

SACRAMENTO — The Golden State has, officially at least, adopted the Golden Rule to govern the sale of real estate in California, as prepared by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

In disclosing this, State Real Estate Comsr. R. S. Davis also revealed there were 10 per cent more licensed real estate brokers at the end of July and 13 more licensed real estate salesmen than a year ago.

As a consequence 68,809 real estate men are urged in a "preamble of ethics" to use as the safest possible guide, the old Biblical injunction "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also unto them."

Other ethics urged upon the craft include: Never publicly criticise a competitor or express an opinion of a competitor's transaction unless requested to do so by one of the principals.

A realtor should never seek information about a competitor's transaction to use for the purpose of closing the transaction himself or diverting the customer to another property.

Property should be offered by a realtor solely on its merit without exaggeration, concealment or any form of deception or misleading representation.

Under no circumstances should a realtor permit any property in his charge to be used for illegal or immoral purposes.

"The realtor is the instrumentality through which the land resources of the nation reaches its highest use. . . . He is a creator of homes, a builder of cities, a developer of industries and productive farmers."

Such functions, Commissioner Davis declares, "impose grave social responsibility and a patriotic duty to which the realtor should dedicate himself."

PAIR OF QUEENS—These girls will reign at this year's San Mateo County Fiesta . . . and it's easy to understand why the judges picked them. Madelyn Freis (right), 19-year-old San Mateo girl, has been named queen, and Helene Schupp of Redwood City (below), the fiesta's "Gardenia Girl," will be one of two ladies in waiting. The fiesta opens in its new $350,000 pavilion Sept. 24 and will run for 10 days. Work on the 64,000 square foot building, adjacent to Bay Meadows in San Mateo, is being speeded so the headquarters will be ready in time.

Fish Spilled On Bayshore

Two tons of fish were spilled on Bayshore Freeway Monday night when a truck driven by Frank Bellante, San Francisco, overturned at Broadway, Burlingame.

The California Highway Patrol said that Bellante's flat rack truck skidded when he stepped on the brake for a red light at the intersection, hit the guide bars of the left turn lane and rolled over.

Burlingame firemen were called and swept the highway free of an assortment of shrimp, smelt, sole, albacore and other sea food.

UC Student Drowns On Coastside

A University of California student was drowned, and his would-be rescuer almost drownedduring a beach party Friday at Saddle Rock, south of Devil's Slide.

Dep. Sheriff Don Hartnett said that the victim of the drowning was David Miller, 24, of Oakland. He and seven others, all from the East Bay Area, had gone to San Mateo County's Coastside for a beach party and picnic.

Mr. Miller was swimming about 50 feet offshore when the others in the party heard him call for help.

When D'Arcy reached Mr. Miller, the drowning man grabbed him in a death grip which D'Arcy was not able to free until he was almost exhausted. Waves washed the pair apart, and D'Arcy barely was able to swim to shore.

Another member of the party, Jack Belknap, 26, Oakland, climbed to an army observation post and called the Coast Guard, which dispatched a cutter and a land party to the scene.

The incoming fog, in the early evening, impeded the search and Mr. Miller's body was not recovered.

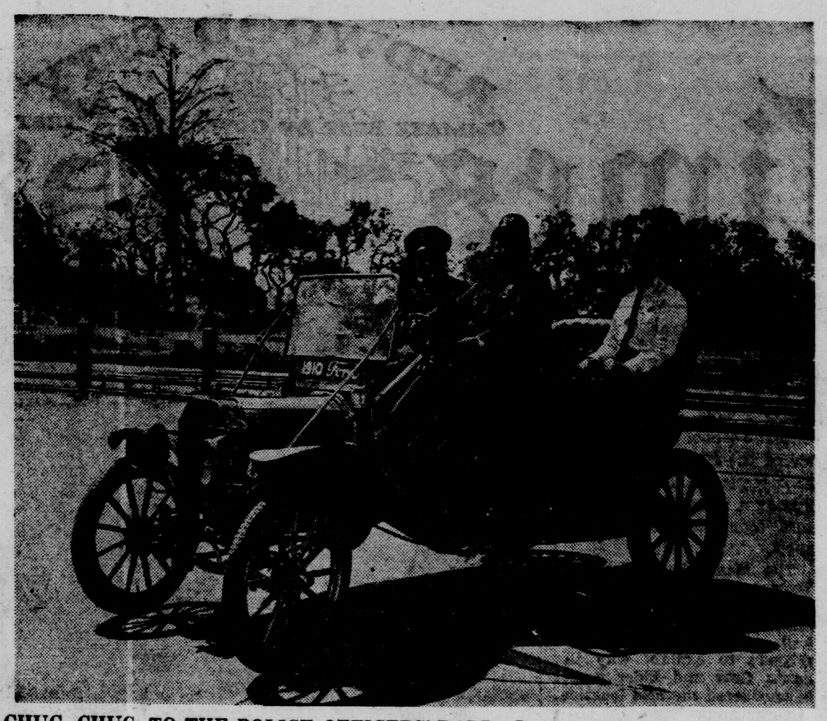
According to Hartnett, Mr. Miller was the son of George R. Miller, an official of the Oakland Street Dept. He was a freshman at the University of California.

Woman Injured In Bus Accident

A woman passenger on a Palo Alto City Lines bus was hospitalized last Saturday after being injured when the vehicle collided with a truck at Waverley St. and Seale Ave.

Miss Alice Saunders of 165 Forest Ave., Palo Alto, was taken by ambulance to Palo Alto Hospital. Police said she was thrown from her seat when the vehicles collided. Hospital attendants reported that she suffered a back injury.

Samuel Howard Bell of 554 Avenue Del Oro, Redwood City, was driving the bus. Ernest Chinca of San Francisco was operating the truck. The collision occurred at 10:30 a.m.



CHUG, CHUG, TO THE POLICE OFFICERS' BALL—It may take them quite a while to get to Bay Meadows in their Ford convertible, so Officers Albert Hoffman, driver Phil (Parking Ticket) Bray, and Jack Price started out yesterday for the trip north. The ball is scheduled for Saturday night and proceeds will be turned over to the widows and orphans fund. The officers explained that their car was the prewar type, but they forgot to mention which war.

1500 Workmen Speed Building Of County Fiesta Pavilion

With its opening just a little over a week away—on Sept. 24—1500 carpenters, electricians, roofers, plumbers, telephone linemen and other craftsmen were humping against a deadline to complete the $500,000 building on time and to get the surrounding buildings in shape for the Fiesta and Flower Show for its grand opening.

"The first construction on exhibits will commence," according to San Mateo County Fair Assn. president, George Lagomarsino, "tomorrow in the main building. However, other exhibitors have already started in the buildings adjacent to the main building.

"The amateur garden clubs," he declared, "started early this week to complete their exhibits along the avenue that will be formed by the outdoor gardens leading from the main gate to the fairgrounds proper.

"Their space has been allocated, and they arrived with loads of bricks, rocks, picks and shovels to do their own work.

"They will be finished well in advance of the other exhibitors, in all probabilities," he said.

The commercial exhibitors, according to Jack Gibson (architect in charge) will start their work of reconstructing portions of gardens—the "how to do it" phase of the exhibitions—the latter part of the week.

A group of eight architectural gardeners have set up, and will duplicate, outstanding gardens in San Mateo County with an emphasis on their utility value or on their outstanding points.

On the special events side of the program, a group of technicians arrived from the United States Air Force Field at McClellan Field to discuss the technical aspects of installing their equipment.

They included Lt. Carl R. Hart, the officer in charge of the unit and commentator and pilot on the aerial telecasts which will be a feature of the Fiesta; Ray Fischer, electronics and video engineer; Ray Harwood, audio engineer and crew coordinator; Justus Wyman, program director and announcer.

They selected the site for their unit which will be installed in a space 20 feet wide by 40 feet long in the main building. Workmen will commence Monday building a partition to separate it into two parts—an area for the audience with the 17 viewing screens set up along a shelf 28 feet long and a workshop. Special air conditioning equipment to keep the apparatus cool will also be installed.

Dr. Hartzell Ray, in charge of special events, said arrangements had been completed for these additional features: An archery contest will be held Sept. 25. It will be open, he said, to all residents of San Mateo County 16 years old or over.

Parade Set Sept. 25 Honoring Redwood City Dog Week

The 21st annual observance of National Dog Week will take place in Redwood City on Saturday, Sept. 25, according to B. B. Berman, chairman for this area.

In cooperation with the Redwood City Optimist Club and Recreation Dept., the parade will start at Broadway and Arguello at 1:30 p.m. All dos must be on leash and will be assigned to their positions.

There will be four divisions. First will be for dogs on floats, bicycles, wagons, etc. Second for mixed breeds, third for pure breds, and the last for obedience trained dogs. The dogs and owners will march up Broadway to Hamilton St. to the Native Daughters Park in back of the courthouse where the judging will take place.

Ladies will judge all entries this year. Officiating in the pure bred ring will be Mrs. Robert W. Poole of Emerald Lake, whose dogs have been winning championship titles at the large shows.

The fancier, Mrs. Henry Cruzat of the Greyhound Lunch Room, will pass out the prizes in mixed breeds. Judging the obedience trial will be Miss Marvis Mueller of San Francisco, who is the county's foremost teen-ager in dog training. The floats will be judged by a committee of Optimist Club members.

Additional prizes will be given, including 35 mm. camera with a flashlight attachment. Clarence J. Pfaffenberger of San Francisco is giving an autographed copy of his book, "Training the Cocker Spaniel." Kuehn Milling Co. of Redwood City is giving every dog entered a two-pound package of dog food.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Recreation Center on Roosevelt Ave. at the office of Alfred Morton. No dogs that have gained championship points can be entered for competition.

Planners Propose Whipple Lines

Plan lines looking toward the eventual straightening of a job at Whipple Ave. and El Camino were recommended this week by Redwood City Planning Commissioners.

The plan lines had been requested by the city councilmen. Commissioners recommended that the line run along the side of the Fox Shoppe building on one side and along the side of a refreshment stand at Magnani's Corner. The wide area thus set off would provide ample space in case an overpass is installed.

Commissioners noted that they recommended a curve in Whipple towards the Fox Shoppe for use when the city straightens the street. The setback on the other side, they continued, would be used when the state constructs an overpass as part of the Bayshore Freeway project.

If the plan lines are adopted property owners will be on notice that the government intends to purchase that land and will be prohibited from constructing any buildings inside the lines.

Commissioners also:

Recommended that the council deny three applications for rezoning on Woodside Rd. One was for a rezoning to business of that land from Oxford St. to Five Points, another was by John McCarthy for a business lot at Hudson St. and Woodside, and the last was from Francis Cassaretto for 640 Woodside Rd.

Denied a use permit which would have permitted Ethel Anderson to conduct a nursery school at 41 Jeter St.

Set a public hearing for Oct. 11 on an application by Walter H. Rutherford for a use permit to operate a ceramics school at 29 Birch St.

Laid over an application for a use permit from M. L. Steinberg, who wants to install apartments at King St. and Oak Ave.

Laid over an application by Richard Delucchi for a rezoning of a plot of land near Southern Pacific Co. tracks which he owns at Florence St. and Marsh Rd. The land is in second residential. Delucchi wants to install light industry. Consultant Lawrence Wise has suggested multiple dwellings and the Taft Improvement Club has objected to any change.

VISITS HERE—There was a reunion in Redwood City over the weekend when Kenneth Roach (above), member of the British navy, accepted the invitation of Harold Whitmore to "come and see me sometime." Whitmore issued the invitation while stationed with the U.S. Army Air Corps in England, and Roach, whose ship docked at San Francisco, Sunday, was quick to trek down the Peninsula.

Typist Injured

Patricia A. Little, 32, a San Mateo typist, was injured Friday evening when the car she was driving was involved in a collision at Bayshore Hwy. and Holly Rd., San Carlos.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Miss Little was making a left turn into Holly Rd. when her convertible coupe was struck by a southbound car, driven by K. E. Blomquist, 25, a San Francisco marine engineer.

Miss Little was treated at Community Hospital.

Two Men Given 3 Years Probation

Two men who have pleaded guilty to felony charges late Monday were given three years' probation each by Superior Judge Edmund Scott, but one of them must serve a three months' jail term also.

John A. O'Donnell, 45, a janitor formerly employed by A. W. Buschke, Redwood City apartment house owner, was given the jail term and probation. He admitted forging his employer's name to a $35 check. Judge Scott ordered O'Donnell to make restitution of $311 he received for three other checks, all forgeries.

Carlton C. King, 24, a truck driver, was granted straight probation after pleading guilty to the burglary of Piwald's Mills Park Pharmacy, San Bruno, to steal narcotics. An alleged accomplice, Walter Helm, 44, has pleaded not guilty and will go on trial Sept. 28.

Kenneth McDonald Enlists in U.S. Navy

Kenneth Randolph MacDonald, son of Mrs. Mae Fifer of 607 Acacia Ln., enlisted in the navy at the navy recruiting station here recently, it was announced by Chief Pete Foulger.

MacDonald enlisted for a period of three years and will receive his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego. Upon completion of his recruit training he will attend the navy's radio school where he will further his knowledge of radio and electronics, which is the trade he intends to follow in the navy.

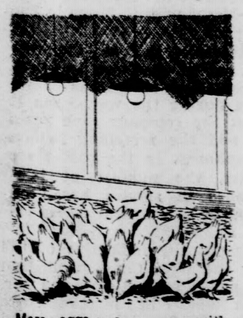
SALESMAN ARRESTED

William M. Nosman, 50-year-old San Francisco machinery salesman, was arrested at 11:10 p.m. yesterday by Belmont police on charges of drunken drivinf. He was arrested by Officer James Moore on El Camino Real. Nosman was held at county jail in lieu of $150 bail and is to appear on Sept. 21 before Judge Gus Risso, police said.

Why California uses more rural electricity than all the other 47 States combined

The wide, rich valleys of California produce fruit and vegetables, grain and cattle, throughout the year . . . thanks to electric power. Irrigation is the most important of the many uses of electricity in rural California where more than half the nation's rural power is at work. Farm electricity is made possible by P. G and E.'s liberal policy of stringing lines into farm areas . . . by P. G. and E.'s rural electric rates, among the lowest in the nation . . . by P. G. and E.'s vast interconnected power network.

Horsepower meant just that not many years ago. For pumping was done by windmill or with animal power. It was primitive, inadequate. Then electric horsepower came to the valleys. And richness came to the dry summer fields of California.



More eggs today . . . with lighted chicken houses. Dairies milk with electricity. Rural power grinds feed, dries hay, runs electric tools. Cheap electric power means more wealth for both farms and cities in Northern and Central California.

California farms are 96% electrified . . . highest percentage in the nation.

P. G. and E. is speeding nearly 2,000,000 post-war horsepower to California 234,000 of this new horsepower already is in service.

Work never stops on our power-building program

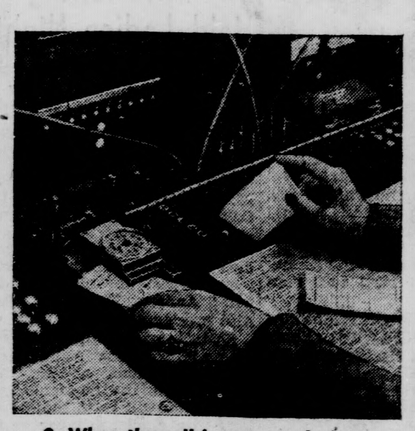
"THIS IS LONG DISTANCE"

How telephone operators route and time your calls

1. Perhaps you've wondered how your long distance calls usually go through so quickly . . . even to small, far-away places. The routing operator is one reason. A long distance operator has just asked her the route to Pilot Grove, Missouri. From her special book she finds it and flashes back . . . "MX Kansas City, TC Boonville."



2. When the call is answered, thousands of miles away, the operator placing the call slips her "toll ticket" into this device . . . known as a calculagraph. When you begin talking, she moves a lever to stamp the time on the ticket. When you hang up, a signal tells her to stamp it again . . . thus recording the length of your call.

3. Your call's roadway, to Pilot Grove—or anywhere—is kept open in this Traffic Control Center. Should major trouble occur on one route, the Center must find another to carry the calls. This is just part of our service job . . . making it possible for you to call across town, or across country, when you wish, as often as you wish.

4. When you make a telephone call, you hire a mighty servant to work for you at small cost. And that servant is more useful than ever. In the past ten years, the number of telephones on the Coast has about doubled. We're hard at it to provide more and better service for more people. And each new telephone added makes every telephone that much more valuable.

Quarter-Million Dollar RC Furniture Plant Reported

Plans for a quarter of a million dollar furniture plant to be located here at the corner of Broadway and Charter Sts. are now being prepared by the Ferguson Manufacturing Co. of San Francisco.

W. F. Cooney, president and general manager of the company, announced that the factory will be located on a two-acre industrial site purchased last week from the Land Development Co. of Redwood City.

Cooney, a Redwood City resident, said the site was purchased for $28,000 and that the transaction was handled by Anthony Gianfermo, Redwood City realtor.

The proposed plant will have a 40,000 square foot building for the manufacturing of furniture, and an additional building for company general offices.

Yard space for the storage and drying of lumber will be provided, Cooney said.

MP Lions Even Score on Rotary

The Menlo Park Lions Club last night defeated the Menlo Park Rotary at softball 24 to 18. This was reciprocation for the donkey baseball game played last month when the Lions were defeated by the Rotarians.

Harold Bostock, district governor, spoke to the Rotarians at their luncheon meeting yesterday at Marie Antoinette. He suggested good fellowship between countries and Rotarians as a step toward world peace.

Judge Takes O'Malley Case For Study, Decision Held Off

It will be at least three months before any court decision is handed down to settle the legal battle between Joseph O'Malley, Burlingame attorney, and San Mateo Police Judge Francis W. Murphy.

Both sides presented their cases yesterday afternoon in Redwood City to Superior Judge Lecnard Avilla of Santa Clara County, who was called in to preside.

O'Malley had appealed his case for a superior court review after he was convicted on the contempt charge in San Mateo April 30 by Acting Judge Clarence Morris of San Francisco.

Nathan Coghlan, O'Malley's attorney, contended yesterday that the Burlingame lawyer was not guilty of contempt and that Judge Morris had no jurisdiction in the case, anyway.

Coghlan and Thomas Casey, representing the City of San Mateo in place of City Atty. Arthur Harzfeld, submitted the cases to Judge Avilla.

Gaskill Named Austin Dealer

The Gaskill Motor Co., 2101 El Camino Real, has been appointed the official dealer for British Austin cars for San Mateo County, Santa Cruz County and Santa Clara County, Steve Gaskill announced today.

He said the company has opened a branch office in Mountain View and Santa Cruz and will open a branch in San Jose soon.

Austin will start production on several new models soon, Gaskill said, including a convertible with a 95 horsepower motor, an all metal station wagon, half-ton pickup and panel trucks. He said he also planned to handle a large custom built line of Austins with 130 horsepower motors.

State Proposition Deals With Governor Successor

(This is the eighth of a series of articles by veteran capitol Correspondent Earl G. Waters, analyzing the various proposals which will appear on the November ballot.)

Proposition No. 9 relates to the succession to the governorship of the state.

It was expressly prepared as a result of the confusion which existed in the State of Georgia when the governor-elect died before taking office.

This new provision would prepare the state for such a contingency by declaring when a governor-elect shall die before taking office, the lieutenant governor-elect shall become governor and shall serve for the term for which the governor-elect was chosen.

The proposal further clarifies present provisions for succession to the governorship in event of death of the governor in office. The succession would be the lientenant governor, president pro tem of the senate, speaker of the assembly, secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer and finally the state controller.

It provides also that in the event the lieutenant governor shall succeed to the governorship the president pro tem of the senate shall succeed to the lieutenant governorship.

Assemblyman Ralph M. Brown offers the only opposition to this measure on the grounds it is unnecessary because of the findings made by the supreme court of Georgia. Brown, however, concedes that the measure should be adopted if there is still doubt as to whether the Georgia ruling would apply in California.

Sen. George J. Hatfield, former United States attorney for Northern California, and one-time lieutenant governor of California, declares there is doubt on this point and recommends the measure be adopted.

Chamberlain Quits Belmont Fire Post

Harry Chamberlain, first assistant chief of the Belmont Fire Dept. has resigned effective Oct. 1, Fire Chief Elbert Miller announced Wednesday.

Miller said that Chamberlain is leaving the department in order to return to private business. Chamberlain has served as full-time assistant chief for the past year, and previously had been assistant chief of the Belmont Volunteer Fire Dept.

According to Miller, Chamberlain will be retained in the volunteer department with the rank of captain.

Two new full time hosemen have been hired by the department, Miller said, and they will fill the vacancies left by the resignation of Chamberlain and Capt. Jack Morrissey, who resigned last week in order to join the Belmont Police Dept.

The new firemen are Robert Simpson, 21, 1081 Edwin St., Belmont, and Lynn Farbairn, 21, 940 O'Neill Ave. Simpson has been a member of the Belmont Volunteer Fire Dept. for the past four years, and Farbairn has been a member for three years.

Asst. Chief Robert Ellenburger has been promoted to the rank of first assistant chief, Miller said.

Belmont Finds Owner of Horses

Belmont Police Chief O. Walter Lindholm said Wednesday that a Sunnyvale rancher was believed to be the owner of five runaway horses rounded up by police in the northern part of the city.

The horses, which were unclaimed until today, were to have gone up for public auction on Sept. 20. Lindholm said that the rancher had been using a Belmont pasture for the horses and had gone on a vacation. He did not discover that his horses were missing until he returned from his vacation, Lindholm said.

It took nearly an entire day to round up the horses which police found grazing on lawns and in gardens in the Ruth Ave. section of Belmont.

GARDEN: Greenthumbers Need Patience, Practice

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

We don't expect a baby to walk or run before it learns to creep, but nine out of 10 who start gardening are "plumb through with it"—unless they make an outstanding success the first season. Patience and practice help in all activities.

Bessie Alderson of H Street, Sacramento, writes: "I read your suggestion about hand-picking the worms on cabbage leaves. May I help a bit with a speedier method? To each gallon of tepid water, add one tablespoon of table salt. Dissolve and spray the cabbage plants. This will not harm the plants of the cabbage family, nor the consumer. I was for many years a gardener in the Middle West."

Many thanks for the suggestion, but a word of caution must go with it. Here in California our soils are usually too alkaline. I don't think one tablespoon of salt dissolved in a gallon of water and sprayed on would harm the soil, but it certainly could mount up, and continued salt spraying would be bad for the soil. Eventually it would stop producing.

Sgt. James Lamb of Mather Field is going to start a fall garden now, and I'm glad he got around to it before the days get much shorter. He asks "Since this will be our first experience with a fall garden, we'd like to know what to plant? Should it be the same as our spring garden: and how about fertilizer?"

The advantages of a fall and winter garden are that you have fewer pests with which to contend, and less irrigating to do (when we have normal rainfall—and it's high time we did)!

However, you can't plant the same things as in spring, because we must figure on frost and cold weather before the fall-planted vegetables mature. So no melons, no corn, no tomatoes, squash or cucumbers. Instead, plant:

Garden and edible pod peas, Swiss chard, lettuce, cos, romaine, endives, mustard, spinach, radishes, turnips, carrots, beets—and the only kind of beans you should plant now are horse beans, which some people like.

If you fertilized your summer garden well, there may be enough plant food in the soil to carry over. Since plants grow slower in winter, they don't need it so fast, and I'd watch growth and see if they seem to be coming along satisfactorily. However, if you can get a supply of manure, this would be an excellent time to work it in—except around root crops, and even there it's all right when thoroughly rotted.

Mrs. E. E. C. Cox, 3643 Diamond Ave., Oakland 2, may be a customer of some nurseryman who reads this: "I need a young shaddock. All the large nurseries I've contacted are all innocent of shaddocks. Can you tell me where I can get one—short of Southern Florida? . . . My shaddock (citrus maxima), 20 years old, died before I was told about not too much water, an acid soil, and plenty of fertilizer . . ."

Well there must be some misunderstanding, because a shaddock is a grapefruit, and nearly any nursery, large or small, can get a customer one in a can.

Could be that it was not clear on account of the botanical name. Shaddock, or grapefruit, is not citrus maxima, but citrus grandis. Most shaddock have pink flesh.

Mrs. Joseph Faria cut back her iris as was recommended, but reports that now they are 18 inches high again, and green. This fast growth is caused by giving them abundant water after the trim. It's well to let the iris stay on the dry side (not bone dry, of course), so they can take a rest for a few weeks.

She is also a prospect for some nursery—wants to get yellow and red cannas. She shouldn't have much trouble in finding them.

Attempt at Thanks Backfires Here

Because he wanted to show his appreciation for kind treatment received from a jailer, Harold E. Rhodes, was back in jail Monday.

Rhodes, 44, a former San Carlos real estate salesman, was arrested at the sheriff's office Sunday morning after he had brought Jailer Louis Lodi a box of cigars.

Last year Rhodes was given a one-year jail term on a grand theft charge, and released after six months on probation for two years. The sheriff's office reported that warrants for him were issued two months ago because he failed to report to the probation officer and also because he allegedly wrote several bad checks.

Lodi said that he received a telephone call from Rhodes Sunday morning. Rhodes praised Lodi's treatment of him while he was in jail and said he wanted to buy Lodi a drink. Lodi made an appointment to meet Rhodes at a bowling alley at 10:30 a.m.

Twenty minutes before the appointment, Rhodes, who has been working as a kitchen helper at the Hassler Health Home, walked into the jail with a box of cigars for Lodi. Lodi pointed him out to Dep. Sheriff Jack O'Brien, who served the warrant.

Lodi kept the cigars.

Belmont Council Studies Water District Consolidation

Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier today confirmed reports that the Belmont City Council Monday night held an informal meeting to discuss the possibility of consolidating the Belmont Water Dist. and Belmont Fire Dist. into the City of Belmont.

Kohlmeier said that letters had been sent out to a number of Belmont citizens asking them to meet with the council in order to form study groups to investigate the feasibility of consolidation.

He said that the council has come to no conclusion on the matter of consolidation and was appointing the committees because it did not have sufficient time to study the consolidation problems itself.

The naming of the actual committee members will not take place until the regular council meeting on Sept. 27. Kohlmeier said he preferred not to release any information about the Monday night meeting and the study committee until the regular council session.

Consolidation of districts was one of the campaign promises made by the councilmen when they were elected to office last April on a five-man reform ticket sponsored by the Belmont Property Owners Assn.
